Hey Pup, Let's Talk!: Canine's Problems Solved

Synopsis

Dogs in difficulty can't write to Dear Abby, but author Miriam Yarden knows how to solve their problems. She interprets canine troubles, then uses her know-how to turn case histories into true-to-life stories with happy endings! Owners of nervous but otherwise lovable dogs will want to read the "Case of the Hysterical Poodle." And sometimes, mischievous kids try even the friendliest dog's patience. For that problem, the author presents the "Case of the Suffering Mastiff." Then, there is the "Case of the Upset Akita," a dog with a talent for transforming fine furniture into debris fit for the junkyard. In all, dog owners will find more than 30 informative case histories, along with suggestions for solving problems that include paper training, barking, furniture chewing, and lots more.

Ms. Yarden, B.S., is a master in the field of knowing canine behavior and solving problems in the most professional, humane and fun way. She has spent 40 + years using her skills teaching good manners and solving issues from puppies to seniors . I have had the privilege of watching her during one of her puppy socialization classes and interviewed on a couple of talk shows. Her book is a delight teaching in a fun yet serious way through case histories explaining also why the problem may be happening. And most important each dog and family's relationship is strengthened in the process. Glad to have read her book. She is an interesting writer who really cares about the animals. The title of her book says it all!
